WETA Launches MV Sea Change

- On Friday, July 12, the San Francisco Bay Area Water Emergency Transportation Authority (WETA) launched Sea Change, the world's first commercial passenger ferry powered 100 percent by zero-emission hydrogen fuel cells. MTC Commissioners Dina El-Tawansy and Gina Papan attended the launch event as well as MTC Director, Theresa Romell of Funding Policy and Programs and staff including Craig Bosman, Margaret Doyle, and Joey Kotfica. The vessel subsequently began service to the public on July 19, emitting only water vapor, a portion of which is remineralized and used in the onboard water fountain, making it the only vessel in the world with drinkable emissions.

Golden Gate Bridge Suicide Deterrent Completed

- Commissioner David Rabbitt represented MTC at an event on July 15 recognizing the completion of the suicide deterrent net on the Golden Gate Bridge. Commissioners Moulton Peters and El-Tawansy were also present, as were Brad Paul of our staff; U.S. House Speaker Emerita Nancy Pelosi; former Commissioners Tom Ammiano, Damon Connolly and Amy Rein Worth; former Executive Director Steve Heminger; and several current and former MTC staff members. MTC Awarded $5 Million from Inaugural HUD PRO Housing Grant Program

- Last month, the White House and HUD announced that MTC received a \$5 million grant from the Pathways to Removing Obstacles to Housing (PRO Housing) Grant Program. This first-of-its-kind program rewards communities that have taken active steps to remove local housing barriers and provides funding for affordable housing development, revisions to local land use policies, and streamlining the permitting process. In response to advocacy from MTC, this is the first HUD program to include Metropolitan Planning Organizations as eligible entities. In partnership with the Bay Area Housing Finance Authority (BAHFA), MTC applied for $10 million to build out housing-supportive infrastructure at two transit-oriented development projects and to help launch the Priority Sites Program. Staff are evaluating options to revise the project budget in light of the reduced $5 million award and expect to return to the Commission in September.
